Fireworks Show Set For July 22 Cancelled

The Glens Falls Golden Eagles have announced the fireworks show set for July 22nd has been cancelled due to scheduling conflicts. The Golden Eagles will still be giving out backpacks sponsored by Reality Check and Adirondack Nautilus to the first 125 fans 18 and under. The team also announced they will be giving out a free scoop of ice cream to every fan that walks through the gates on Saturday.

"With the fireworks being moved last month, it became increasingly difficult to get the fireworks show we wanted on July 22nd. It's no one's fault and we hope fans are not too disappointed and can enjoy the ice cream and quality baseball on what should be a nice Saturday night." Vice President Chris Klemmer said.

The Glens Falls Golden Eagles are very excited to announce that the July 26th game against the Little Falls Diamond Miners will be free of charge thanks to Reality Check and Southern Adirondack Tobacco Free Coalition sponsoring the game.

"This is a terrific thing that Reality Check and SATFC are doing in sponsoring this game." Klemmer said "To think that a family can go see some of the best college players in the country and not spend a dime for a ticket is a really amazing deal. Not only that, but to be able to work with a great organization like Reality Check is a real honor for this ballclub."

Reality Check is a youth-led movement with the goal of exposing the truth about tobacco and the manipulative marketing practices that the tobacco industry uses to target teens.

"What better way to celebrate Fan Appreciation Day on July 26th then to give fans a free ticket with no strings attached?" Klemmer asked.
